“ Dear Mrs. Powell & family,

My deepest condolences for your loss.

I worked with Chris a few years ago, he was a decent, smart, helpful, and caring person. Although our views on some issues were different, we always had interesting, respectful, and logical conversations.

He always spoke with love about his daughters.

Wishing you the best that is possible during this very trying time.

*With regards,

“ Dear Carm, my deepest sympathy to you and your family. I knew you many years back when I was part of the homeschooling group at St. Christopher’s in Kent Island. That was 15 years ago. You were so kind, encouraging, and a beacon of faith to me during a very hard time in my life. I left homeschooling due to health reasons. Both of my children are grown now. One is through college, and the other has a year to finish. I never forgot you or your two older daughters who helped me and my kids when I was trying to function with failing lungs. I would have never been able to attend the homeschool group as long as I did without your help and the other mothers. You lived your faith and blessed those around you. I am so sorry to hear of your husband’s death. I did not know him personally, but I know he was a great man and a huge presence in all of your lives. I just learned of his passing this evening through Julie Daniels, a mutual friend. I was so shocked and saddened to hear this. I know there is nothing I can say; nor will I try. I will keep you and your family in prayer. During those hard times of my own illness and struggles and waiting for a life-saving transplant(s), I found others were holding me up in faith when I had none left. Please know that that others are holding you and your family up now. Again, I am deeply saddened and wish there were something I could do or say to bring you comfort and peace. Sincerely, Trishia Peerman

“ Chris Powell was one person I had respect for immediately upon meeting him. He loved his Pittsburgh Steelers. And he loved his family. I never did get to try his famous BBQ. When people ask me about Chris Powell, I will speak of him the way he was. Honest, respectful, faithful, and gentle. I hope he is able to rest now. Be easy my friend. Thank you for being a part of my long strange trip.

“ As a new salesperson, I struggled at Koons Easton Toyota. Chris was my "go to" manager. I was scared of him at first, but learned he was a big teddy bear. Chris will be missed by many. As Chris didn't "do" hugs, I am sending elbow bumps his way.

We are all in shock and sadness that this horrible virus has taken his caring personality, intelligence and sense of humor from his family way to soon. Chris was larger than life in stature and personality! A man's man with a gentle heart. He was a loving husband, dad, son, brother, uncle, grandfather, and friend. His passing will leave a mark on all who knew him. He is home with our Lord and those family members who have passed before him. I am praying for Carm and their four lovely daughters, his parents Lee and Larry, and his brother and sister. May his family, co-workers and friends find peace and hope during this difficult time.
