Dawn is my hero. The way she handled her illness by living and loving her life. Her family was most important to her as was her dog. Marty I want you to know how happy and proud Marge was of you two as a couple. We talked about it a couple of times. It made her heart happy that you two were dedicated to each other and your family, and extended family. God has a new angel with him. May he grant you and the family with peace, comfort and knowledge that she is in a happy healthy place. You will meet again when God says it is time. Much love to all of you.
