“ To: Barb and family

My sincere condolences on the loss of Jim. I was so shocked because every time I saw Jim he was full of energy. I became acquainted with Jim when I was hired by Peoples Bank after graduating from college. Jim would travel down to Denton to bring the day's work from Marydel and occasionally I would fill it at Marydel when needed. This started a life time friendship. Over the years after I left the bank we would see each other from time to time. He would often bring up the Maryland basketball game we went to in the 70's at Cole Field House. With Jim once a friend always a friend. He truly cared about others and was a great listener and consoler. He was a proud husband, parent and grandparent. but he had a deep love of people that is rare in today's world. I am sorry I will not get the chance to say good by one last time, but he will be waiting for us in heaven.

“ My family extends it's deepest condolences. We all loved Jim so much. He was a huge influence on me from the moment I met him. I hardly knew anyone when I moved here from Texas. He was kind, loving, and gave the best hugs. He and Barb have been wonderful neighbors to my grandmother for many years. We so enjoyed his visits, all the wonderful vegetables he would share from his garden, and his willingness to always lend a hand when needed. They were blessings to our church family at Greensboro Baptist as an added bonus. We will continue to pray for all grieving this loss and will keep his memory alive. God Bless!

“ An incredible man, one of a kind. He could engage anyone in a conversation, and demonstrated sincere interest in what they had to say. He listened and gathered in their comments and responded in a way that you knew he was paying attention. That is a rare quality. Every time I spoke with him I learned something about the world, about life, about history, about any number of subjects. He was remarkably generous with his time and spirit, helping a long list of people with whatever they may need. His devotion to family is a powerful positive example for everyone. He was a unique person and he will live in my memory for the rest of my days. I am a better person for having known Jim Spicher.

“ Our neighbor! It will not be the same seeing him outside in his yard every day. Seeing his beautiful garden and the sunflowers that ran beside our driveway. Will miss hearing him say “hey neighbor” when taking walks or walking the trash can down to the end of the driveway. Memories!

“ Sir James,
I will always remember you sending me Birthday cards. Using your typewriter to send me a birthday wishes 😊! My fondest memory of you: I recall that Mom brought down to the Bank in Marydel, MD to open my first savings account where you were the manager at. Later, anytime that I would cash a check you always made sure that I would receive a couple of two-dollar bills and silver dollars back with the change. You & Barb got Maryland Crabs for Jane & I back in 2017 when we travel back east to see family. Which of course were amazing! I will never forget the amazing Garden that you had which, seemed to get bigger each year. 😊! I remember that my mom & dad would have summer time picnics and you would bring over Watermelons. I will always remember you carrying these huge watermelons that you grew in that Absolutely Fabulous Garden of yours!!
Respectfully,
Ed Feyl

“ I only knew Jim and Barbara for 18 months while I was the Interim pastor at Greensboro Baptist. He loved the Lord. He Loved his wife and family, and he loved his church. His garden was a work of art as well as good food. He looked and acted more like a 60 year old man. Deb and I fell in love with Jim and Barb. We will meet Jim at heavens gates. May God comfort his family as only He can. In the mean time have a happy eternity Jim.

“ In the several different settings and many occasions when I had contact and did business with Jim, he demonstrated himself to be the quintessential Christian gentleman, a genuinely humble man, and to have a true Servant's Heart. Our consolation is that he is not gone or lost, but in a far better place, where we shall meet again. /S/ C.E. Jensen MD

“ When I met James Earl Spicher in April 1986, my life forever changed.

The hugs. The history. The board games. The love of books. The love of hiking. The love of salad. The love of life.

My love for shopping for books for James Earl and my mother, was the highlight of my year. Writing poetry in each book in order to give to James Earl was a must.

The postcards we have received and treasured over the years will live forever.

Thank you for loving us as friends.

“ Jim certainly will be missed by our Greensboro Baptist Church family. I loved how he always had a generous heart for people. We were fortunate enough to receive produce from his garden many times. His green thumb in the garden often reminded me of my dad's love for tending his gardens. My husband added he will miss hearing Jim say "shut the front door." Jim has a new journey in heaven as he walks those streets of gold. Our hearts are heavy and we extend our condolences to Barb, Chris, Cheryl and their families.

“ I first met Jim Spicher at the Peoples Bank-Denton, Maryland. He was the nicest person and never a negative word did he speak about anyone or anything. He was appointed Bank Manager to the Marydel Branch of the Peoples Bank. During the summer, his tellers had to have their vacation, volunteers needed from Denton Bank and my hand was in the air. Met a 2 week road trip and meeting new folks. When I left the bank, to work with the State of Maryland, we would run into one another on the busy streets of Denton. (Friday nights) and he would talk and talk and talk. I loved our meetings because he kept me up to date on the Denton news. His garden, I would stop by, "can I have sun flowers for the Ames (Hobbs) Church" and away we would cut. He was such a family man and the love he felt for each member. I was so glad I could call him my friend.

Our love and prayers to his family God Bless.....Nancie Hall and Family
