In our hearts this Sunday and all the days ahead. Attended my best friend's 6 year old son's funeral several years ago, the most difficult, heart-wrenching event we'd ever done. Can't imagine your grief , praying for you both and your children.

Patricia Ann Dornbos - October 26, 2012 at 04:23 PM

“ She was a the sweetest people ever. I remember having sleep overs and we would stay up very late talking. She always wanted her friends to like her. She just loved people. She leaves a giant hole that can never be filled.

“ You all are constantly in our thoughts and our prayers. I only knew Karagen the first part of her life. My first memory is when she was born and we went to the same church on Wednesday evenings. And then when we were cabin neighbors at Binghamton Camp. Those she's gone your memories of her will always remain. Hold on to those good ones for the smile and eventually the laugh that they bring will be healing to your soul.

“ Although I did not know Karagen personally, I was saddened to read about the loss of one so young. It is clear that she was a remarkable little girl who was deeply loved and will be greatly missed. May you take comfort in the words of Jesus at John 5:28,29 where we are told of the hope of seeing our loved ones again.

We are so sorry that you have to go through something like this... Of course we were all hoping and praying that Karagen would be able to overcome the cancer, but God had other plans. We know that she is completely whole now in HIS presence. Praying that Jesus will encompass you in His loving arms and carry you gently through this very difficult time.

*Our love & Prayers are with you.

Dear Friends, We were saddened to learn of Karagen's passing but know her suffering is over. I've followed your FB messages and Dave was saddened too, when I told him "Stra-hoola" had passed away. Maybe you remember he had that as her nickname when he was with you for revival when she was just tiny! May the Lord give you comfort!
