“ When I think of Peggy I remember how she always showed love and kindness to me, and to all she met. And, along with her husband, raised two incredible children, who follow their example and continue to share that love and kindness with their families & communities. Let us carry in our hearts that joy she found in the simple times we share with one another, moments of joy, faith, love and blessings and share it with all we meet as a legacy of her love. May she be richly rewarded in heaven!

“ The only solace I have to give is that there is no cancer, no more suffering, and for those she left behind, our grief is the price we pay for loving someone so much. I called her mom, because she was best friend's mom, and she was the epitome of what a mother should be. I wish you peace, Caitlin, and family. I love you all very much.
