“ One more picture from Dudley's workshop. He gifted this beautiful handmade owl bank to our daughter probably more than 20 years ago. It plays music every time you drop a coin in. We still treasure it to this day.

“ This is a snapshot of my childhood. I didn't live in Annapolis but it was my home away from home and I was just a little girl on the peripheral of Dudley's life. The picture I couldn't find was of me at about 5 years old and my family sending Dudley off as a soldier. When I saw him in his uniform I literally could not speak. I recall Dud and Dianne when they were young, beautiful, vibrant, and exciting, and it gave me joy to be their cousin. And it gives me great joy and peace now to know that one day, thanks be to God, I will again have the opportunity to stand near Dudley. □
