“ God I remember way back when Rod was little still in a diaper Jeni would have me babysit him all the time and little Richie would tag along sometimes to!! But he would come over and we would always have to watch wiggles my goodness I memorized every single song dance you name it it was his favorite that and Nemo!! From those days on I watched him and all the kids grow up eventually everyone went separate ways but always stay close then come back together go again but anytime we all would get to see each other everyone always gave hugs and I told them I love them no matter what. None of us were perfect never will be but Rest in Peace Rod always know you had a soft spot in Winnie's heart since you was little love ya bud
